

Bradford Chamberlain

M.A. Language Development, Graduate Institute of Applied Linguistics,
Dallas, 2005

Brad Chamberlain has been involved in linguistic field work in South Asia since 1994, primarily working in Indo-Aryan and Bodish languages. His research has focused on language use, dialect mapping, typology, and orthography development.

Publications:

- 2015. Linguistic Watersheds: A Model for Understanding Variation Among the Tibetic Languages. Journal of the Southeast Asian Linguistics Society 8, 71-96. (Available online)
- 2008. Script Selection for Tibetan-related Languages in Multiscriptal Environments. International Journal of the Sociology of Language 192, 117-131.

Conference Presentations:

- 2015. Watersheds and Language Mapping. Paper presented at the 25th Meeting of the Southeast Asian Linguistics Society, May 27-29, 2015, Payap University, Chiang Mai, Thailand.